

Experimental Finance Summer School 2019

Copenhagen Business School, June 11-12

The Department of Finance at Copenhagen Business School and the Society for Experimental Finance (SEF) would like to invite you to the Experimental Finance Summer School 2019 held at Copenhagen Business School, Copenhagen (Denmark).

The goal of the summer school is to deepen students' understanding and knowledge of the field of experimental finance. Students are also invited to attend the Experimental Finance Conference from June 13-15. Find the conference website here.

While all are welcome, the summer school targets the following groups:

- Young scholars from finance and economics departments who belong to a non-experimental research group at their University, but are interested in pursuing research in Experimental Finance.
- Young scholars from finance and economics departments that are embedded in an experimental group but want to improve their experimental skills and get an overview over some of the main fields in a systematic way.

Program

Tuesday, 11.06.2019	Wednesday, 12.06.2019
Sophie Moinas: The role of theory in experimental design Kerstin Preuschoff: The impact of individual differences on investment behavior	Shachar Kariv: Recovering Preferences and Attitudes Toward Risk and Time Anna Dreber Almenberg: Which scientific results can we trust? Replication and other practices for improving the scientific quality of experimental results

Registration and Fees. The registration fee for the Summer School is 300 Euro and covers the participation at all lectures, and meals and refreshments during breaks. The registration deadline for the Summer School is March 17, 2019. Notification of acceptance will be provided until March 31, 2019.

Please find further information and registration at the Summer School website here.

Organizers. Elena Asparouhova (University of Utah), Peter Bossaerts (University of Melbourne), Steffen Andersen (Copenhagen Business School), Matthias Stefan (University of Innsbruck)

Conference e-mail. il.fi@cbs.dk